Subject: British Skiers at World Cup Finals

World Cup Ski Cross Finals were held on Sunday in Valmalenco, Italy. Both of Britains female Ski Cross riders were invited to compete in this prestigious event. Emily Sarsfield (24) from Durham and Sarah Sauvey (24) from Melbourne headed over to the finals on there own and met Emily's sister Victoria who managed to get a few days off work to help support the girls and coach them at the biggest Ski Cross event on the World Circuit this season. Racer Ready also came to support the girls, getting some great photography from the event. Sarsfield and Sauvey skied really well and secured there best results of the season with Sarsfield placing 11th and Sauvey 13th. Sarsfield's 11th position is the best result of British Skiing this season, a great acheivment! "The Finals were a great experience and getting such a good result gives me so much confidence going into next season. Big thanks to Vic my sis and Racer Ready for their support at the event, the conditions were tough and we needed someone there to help us on the day." Sarah is now heading to Japan for her last race of the season and Sarsfield will be competing in the French National Championships this coming weekend in La Plagne, then she is off to The Brits in Laax to defend her British title.

Subject: World Cup SX Finals in Valmalenco

Britain's Women's Ski Cross Team have been invited to the World Cup Finals in Valmalenco, Italy this weekend. Emily Sarsfield (24) and Sarah Sauvey (24) secured their place in the finals as part of the top 16 in the world after some great performances this winter on the World Cup Circuit. Accruing enough World Cup points, the Ski Cross girls will be the only British skiers to qualify for this years World Cup Finals in any discipline, a great achievement for the girls who train and compete on the World Cup Circuit with no support and no coach. "I was really pleased to qualify for the finals and I am really excited to race head to head with the best girls in the world" Emily expressed. The British Ski Cross team are currently seeking support and sponsorship partners to work with on their journey to the 2010 Olympic Games.
